

It isn't uncommon for the Weatherby Lake Living (WLL) to contain small errors or omissions. We don't pretend to compete with the NY Times. However, a recent WLL issue was unforgivably remiss in accidentally omitting a very important news item...the notice of the loss of one of our cornerstones of the community, Robert "Bob" Pease.

For this we are deeply sorry and would like to attempt to correct that error with this memorial tribute to our friend and neighbor, Bob Pease.

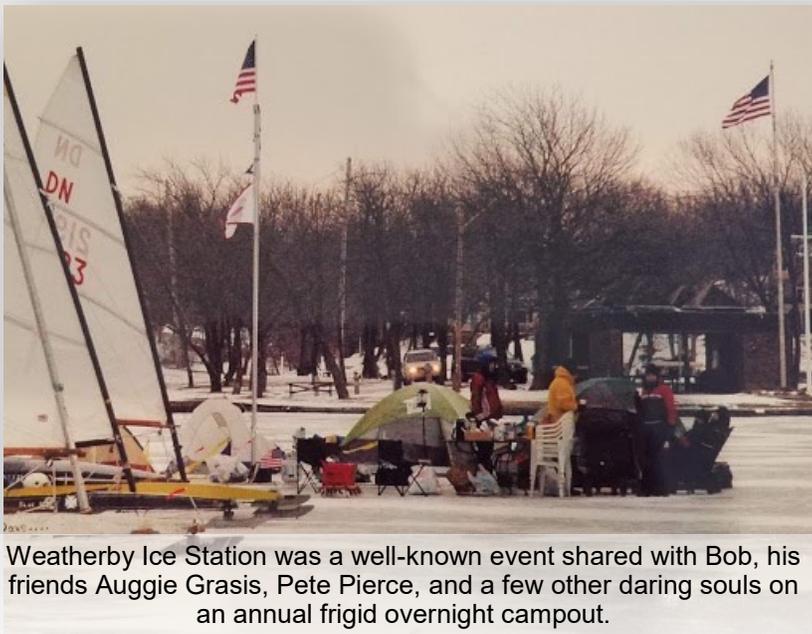

ROBERT GLENN PEASE
June 16, 1949--Oct 5, 2018

Bob and his family were one of the original families in residence at Weatherby Lake. They lived in the historical stone house at the East end of the dam. Bob grew up spending his days surrounded by the Lake and participated in all of the activities that were available.

Weatherby Ice Station was a well-known event shared with Bob, his friends Auggie Grasis, Pete Pierce, and a few other daring souls on an annual frigid overnight campout.

Bob loved the Lake and the life he shared with his family and friends. He was at home on the water year round, whether he was racing his sailboat or camping out.
